MEET THE CAPTAIN

Captain Althario (Tario) Rolle is a Bahamian born and raised local boy. Althario worked for ten years with the Bahamas Coast Guard.

He gained immeasurable experience and understanding of everything in and around our nautical world. Since those early days with the Coast Guard, Captain Althario took all that experience to the yacht charter industry. Ten years later Althario has completed over 150 charters on various power and sailing vessels up to 100 ft in length, He now holds a 200 ton rated captains ticket with the Bahamian government.

Captain Althario has spent numerous hours with Chef Peter, the head chef at Carolina Gourmet. He now is not only an experienced charter captain, but also a chef very capable of preparing fine meals should you decide to add the food and beverage package to your "captain only" charter. As another bonus, he can make a very mean cocktail to be enjoyed every night on your voyage aboard Bru Sea. Cheers to you!

An aerial photograph of a tropical coastline. The water is a vibrant turquoise, transitioning to deeper blues further out. Several small, green islands and peninsulas are visible, some with white sandy beaches. The land is covered in dense tropical vegetation. The overall scene is bright and sunny, typical of a tropical paradise.

EXPLORE THE BEAUTY OF THE EXUMAS

If you are looking for paradise on earth, you will find it in the Exumas. The Exuma Cays are a chain of more than 360 islands in the Bahamas, just southeast of Nassau. They are famous for their white sand beaches and for having some of the bluest waters in the world.

These suggested points of interest will take you through the best the Exumas has to offer while you travel and relax on your private yacht.

NORMAN KEY

The pristine coral reef surrounding Norman's Cay and its neighboring islets make it one of the most incredible places in the Exumas that you simply must see for yourself. Conditions are impeccable for all your favorite saltwater activities or, if you're in the mood for ultimate relaxation, this prime location is also perfect for sun-soaked leisure.

GREAT GUANA CAY

Well protected and easily accessible, Great Guana Cay offers a genuine "Out Islands" experience. The locals of Black Point Settlement will make you feel at home in their quaint little town. Immerse yourself in friendly island culture, feast on traditional Bahamian cuisine, and admire hand-woven palm leaf baskets made by the settlement's women.

STANIEL CAY

Staniel Cay rose to fame after providing the lavish backdrop for two James Bond films. In fact, the spectacular underwater cave system located just west of Staniel Cay was named "Thunderball Grotto" based on its film debut. This can't-miss dive and snorkel site is filled with vibrant coral heads and abundant marine populations.

WARDERICK WELLS CAY

.Home to the 176-square-mile Exuma Cays Land and Marine Park, and the largest underwater marine park in the Caribbean, Warderick Wells Cay is a premier anchorage submerged in protected waters.

There are 20 marked nature trails to explore on land and 20 secluded beaches located along the island's border. Both the hiking and snorkeling are unmatched at Warderick Wells Cay.

SHROUD CAY

Shroud Cay, also part of the territory of the Exuma Cays Land and Marine Park, is an uninhabited archipelago of rocks and white sand beaches that features a charming mangrove channel. The sheltered coves serve as an idyllic home for snails, lobsters, sea turtles and other marine creatures.

COMPASS CAY

Jump in the dinghy to snorkel the caves at Rocky Dundas or take a short hike and a soak in Rachel's Bubble Bath, where the ocean meets a narrow creek outlet and splashes giant waves against the rock face bordering the eastern side of the pool, filling the water with champagne-like bubbles.

LEE STOCKING ISLAND

Navigate a multicolored mix of channels and sandbars toward Lee Stocking Island, home of the once-famous Perry Institute for Marine Science.

This island is criss-crossed with pristine hiking trails and its crystal-clear water makes it a great place to observe the local population of Atlantic stingrays by paddle board.

BLACK POINT

The town of Black Point is small and friendly, located near the northern tip of Great Guana Cay. Take a shore excursion to visit this charming Bahamian settlement where most of the homes are cinderblock, stuccoed and painted in pastels, creating pleasing splashes of color. Take time to discover what day to day life in the Bahamas is all about. Later, hike to the bluff to see the impressive Dotham Cut.

GEORGE TOWN

The capital and largest city in the district, George Town (permanent population 1,000) was founded in 1793 and boasts a colorful history. Pirates used Georgetown's deep water harbor during the 17th century and the "plantation aristocracy" from Virginia and North and South Carolina settled here in the 18th century. Elizabeth Harbor became a refitting base for British vessels and the U.S. Navy used the port during World War II. Today George Town is a vibrant place with delightful shops, restaurants and bars.
